

Dr John Evans

Professional

Since 2015, I have been the Director of Economics and Strategy at ComReg, the Irish Communications Regulator. I am the Chief Economist, having responsibility for Strategic Planning, Research and Data as well as certain International activities, including ComReg's participation in BEREC.

Prior to this I worked at the Competition and Consumer Protection Commission (formerly the Irish Competition Authority) where I had several roles: between 2000 and 2005 I was a Case Officer; between 2005 and 2014 I had a number of managerial roles, working in policy and enforcement areas; and between 2014 and 2015 I was the Director of Civil Competition Enforcement.

Qualifications

- 2013 University College Dublin, Dublin, Ireland. PhD.
- 2002 King's College, London, UK. Post-graduate Diploma, EU Competition Law
- 2000 University of York, York, UK. MSc. Economics.
- 1999 Trinity College, Dublin, Ireland. MLitt. Economics.
- 1997 Trinity College, Dublin, Ireland. BA. Mod (Mathematics and Economics)